Gannets by Carl Chapman

Although we will endeavour to follow our planned programme due to bad weather and other considerations this is not always possible. You can rest assured that any alterations to our planned itinerary will be made to make maximum use of our time and weather conditions. It is imperative you note a trip out on a boat to the Farnes is only considered if the weather is suitable.

Overview

This is a weekend tour to Yorkshire and Northumberland to see an amazing spectacle. Each year seabirds return to the Farne Islands to breed in huge numbers. This is an opportunity to see one of the true wildlife wonders of the British Isles as well as being able to relax in pleasant surroundings.

There is much to see and photograph on this trip.

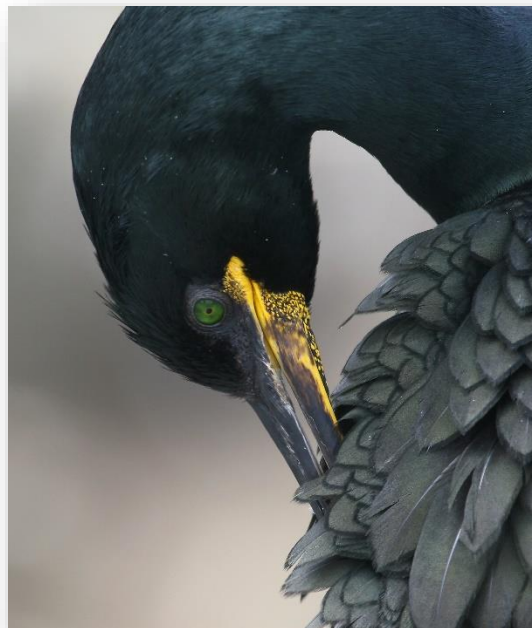

Day 1 - Tuesday

We set off from Norfolk in the early morning stopping for lunch around midday at the RSPB reserve at Bempton to see the breeding Gannets. We will arrive at our comfortable accommodation in Northumberland. Depending upon the time of our arrival we will be able to take a stroll in the surrounding countryside to photograph or watch wildlife.

We will retire back to our accommodation for dinner and a good nights' sleep.

Day 2 - Wednesday

After a filling breakfast we will head towards the quay to catch our boat out to the Farne Islands. Here it is possible we may be able to see and photograph Puffins, Guillemots, Razorbills, Fulmars, Kittiwakes and Shags as well as Eider, Sandwich Terns, Arctic Terns, Common Terns and Grey Seals. We may also be lucky enough to see Roseate Terns as well as Bottlenose Dolphins or Harbour Porpoise

We will sail around the islands for several hours and our skipper will give us all ample opportunity to get close in to see and photograph the wildlife of the islands. We may be allowed to land on the islands in which case we will be among the nesting birds. We will take our packed lunch to eat at an appropriate time.

After our boat trip we travel along the coast for more birdwatching and photographic opportunities. We will then retire back to our accommodation for a hearty evening meal and a good night's sleep.

Day 3 – Thursday

After our breakfast we will visit a local tern colony which will hopefully have a few resident Little Terns.

Shortly after we will make our way back to Norfolk maybe stopping to visit other places along the way.
