Although we will endeavour to follow our planned programme due to bad weather and other considerations this is not always possible. You can rest assured that any alterations to our planned itinerary will be made to make maximum use of our time and weather conditions.

Overview

This is a concentrated but relaxed course where individuals will be given 'Hints and Tips' on photographing wildlife. Although you will be expected to bring your own camera, if you have one, there will be an opportunity to use long lenses on DSLR cameras while photographing the wildlife available to us.

Content

Although the list below outlines the areas we will cover it is by no means exhaustive and attendees are encouraged to try new techniques and procedures.

- Equipment - what you will need to start or further your photography
- The different types of wildlife photography.
- Taking care of your camera - cleaning lenses and sensors.
- Holding your camera – support techniques and Tripods.
- Focusing – how to get the best from your camera.
- Exposure – how to get the best from your photographs
- Creative techniques - depth of field and composition.
- RAW v JPEG.
- Knowing your subject.
- Getting close to wildlife
- Respecting wildlife – how the law affects photographers
- Further recommendations.

What is included?

A picnic lunch with hot drinks and snacks through the day.

Any transport required from and back to our initial meeting point.

The use of cameras and lenses we have available.

Follow up notes issued by e-mail that are tailored to your needs.

What is not included?

We cannot give you operational data for your own camera – we use Canon – there are many makes of camera on the market each with a proliferation of models. It is untenable we keep up to date on the operation of them all. If you are unsure of how to operate certain functions please bring along your instruction manual.

The cost of entry into any reserves we may visit.

Further notes.

This is a course designed to give maximum time in the field which is the most popular method of learning.
